Simple rules

Playing 4 people

Each player has a ball.

Playing one person at a time, from the start line the first player tries to kick his ball through the first hoop. If he succeeds he then plays on for the next hoop and if not it is the next person's turn. And so on until you have a winner. Which is the first to complete a whole round?

A round means kicking your ball through each of the six hoops in order and in the desired direction and then back again. Finishing by kicking your ball into the finishing post. Your ball must touch the post.

Tactics

You could use your ball to knock your opponent's ball away or go straight for the hoops and race to the end.

You must only kick the ball. The ball must not be touched by any other part of your body.
